SUBJECT: SPS IT Systems Progress

RECOMMENDATION

The Chief Constable recommends that the Surrey Police Board (the "Board") receive this report for information.

DISCUSSION

The SPS IT team continues to hit upon major milestones towards completing the critical IT systems and platforms that will serve SPS as it works towards full operationalization. The on-premise data center is completed and migration of users is over 75% realized, while at the same time mobile workstations have been procured and integration into the SPS network is underway.

The PRIME team has established and tested a connection to JUSTIN BC (provincial system used to administer and manage the criminal justice process) and have loaded SPS police officers into the system. Work continues on completing the SP PRIME environment with focus on building workflows and templates. A limited browse / query function has been established for specific SPS teams assigned to recruiting to allow quicker and more efficient screening of SPS applicants.

The workforce application project is in the build-test phase with the vendor and interface with the payroll system is in progress. The data analytical tool is entering into the final steps in the procurement process with work expected to start in the fall of 2022.

CONCLUSION

The above matters are provided for the Board's awareness and information. Regular updates on project progress will be provided to the Board.

BOARD REPORT # 2022-R022

TO: Surrey Police Board

FROM: Chief Constable

FILE: 60550-20-03

SUBJECT: SPS Indigenous Engagement Plan - Community Consultation

RECOMMENDATION

The Chief Constable recommends that the Surrey Police Board (the "Board") receive this report for information.

BACKGROUND

As an integral part of the Strategic Plan, SPS is developing its Indigenous Engagement Plan based on extensive consultation with land-based and urban Indigenous communities in Surrey. The first step in the development of the Indigenous Engagement Plan involves engaging in respectful two-way dialogue with Indigenous communities in order to build a healthy foundation of trust and positive working relationships. Engaging citizens and partner groups will provide Indigenous communities and organizations with opportunities to contribute their input and foster greater understanding.

DISCUSSION

The SPS Indigenous Relations Unit leads consultations using organically based conversations, the primary theme being, "What would you like to see from the Surrey Police Service?" These conversations are facilitated through a variety of means including group discussions, one on one meetings, and social events. The information gleaned from these conversations is collated to understand and inform SPS of existing issues and help design collaborative strategies. Between September 2021-September 2022, twenty-two organizations, communities, and individuals have taken part in consultative discussions. Many of the conversations have included multiple community members. These consultations are ongoing and will be continuous as we work to maintain the trust and strength of our partner relationships.

Relationships with Indigenous communities and organizations are also developed by attending and participating in community events including Truth and Reconciliation Day, Pulling Together Canoe Journey (10 days), Walk to Remember, Canoe Awakening Ceremony, National Indigenous Peoples Day, Blue Eagle Cadets Program (weekly), and Circles of Understanding at the Justice Institute.

Land Based Nations

The City of Surrey is situated on the unceded traditional territories of the Katzie First Nation, Semiahmoo First Nation, Kwantlen First Nation and the Tsawwassen First Nation. Based on the geographic location of each community, and how SPS may support individual community members in the future, it is important to engage with each community, acknowledging that further consultation will be required to determine if SPS will provide direct services to some of these communities.

Urban Population

There are multiple government and non-government based organizations in the City of Surrey that support the urban Indigenous population. These organizations are funded through various streams and provide a variety of services including those associated to housing, homelessness supports, mental health and substance use support. The SPS Indigenous Relations Unit has consulted with several of these organizations, both in person and by utilizing multi-media platforms. Consultations with these groups are ongoing.

Youth Engagement

The wellness of Indigenous youth, the future generations, is an important focus. This relates to justice services, homelessness, mental health, substance use and the impacts of generational trauma. Several organizations have been consulted and based on previous meetings with these groups the Indigenous Relations Unit has sufficient input to outline existing issues and concerns of the youth population. There are additional youth-based organizations that may be able to provide input into the development of the Indigenous Engagement Plan and consultations will continue.

Indigenous Self Determinate Justice Initiatives

Overrepresentation of Indigenous people within the justice system is a key concern for community members and Indigenous organizations. Despite recent efforts by government and our justice partners, including police, the overrepresentation of Indigenous people in the justice system continues to be a significant concern. It is imperative that as an innovative, compassionate police service which is forward thinking in relation to equity, diversity, inclusion and human rights, SPS works to establish collaborative, culturally based, holistic approaches to establishing Indigenous Self Determinate justice-based strategies. Many of these organizations have been consulted and based on previous meetings with these groups, the Indigenous Relations Unit has sufficient input to outline existing issues and concerns related to Justice Based Initiatives. Additional Justice Based organizations have been identified that may be able to provide input into the development of the Indigenous Engagement Plan.

CONCLUSION

Public engagement is a critical step toward understanding what is important to the community and developing a distinctions-based approach which recognizes the unique histories and realities of First Nations, Metis and Inuit communities. It is important to utilize a distinctions-based approach rather than one process for distinct communities which may not recognize each of the community's unique experiences and identity. The history of each community is essential to understand the root causes of involvement in the justice system. The development of the SPS Indigenous Engagement Plan is an important opportunity for SPS to work with Indigenous communities in Surrey. In consultation with the community and other invested participants, the Indigenous Engagement Plan is a foundational priority for the establishment and operationalization of the SPS.

It is a challenge to establish structured timelines due to the nature of community engagement. It is the goal of the Indigenous Relations Unit to have the Indigenous Engagement Plan completed by late Fall of 2022 and to begin promoting the Plan publicly over the coming months.

The above matters are for the Board's awareness and information.

TO: Surrey Police Board

FROM: Chief Constable

FILE: 60550-20-03

SUBJECT: JIBC – September Recruit Class

RECOMMENDATION

The Chief Constable recommends that the Surrey Police Board (the "Board") receive this report for information.

BACKGROUND

Fourteen (14) newly hired recruits will begin their onboarding with SPS on August 29th and will join JIBC Class 169 on Sept 12th. These recruit officers will take part in a two-week onboarding course with SPS before they begin their training at the JIBC Police Academy. Their training will include a total of 23 weeks at the JIBC, and 21 weeks of field training with SPS. In July 2023, the recruits will graduate as Certified Municipal Constables and join our establishment of SPS experienced officers patrolling the community.

DISCUSSION

Applicant Pool

The most recent recruit job posting attracted 407 applicants, of which 330 were male and 75 were female. 217 of these males and 61 females self-identified with diversity factors.

Recruit Class Composition

The 14 recruits selected from this pool of applicants represent an impressive array of skills, education, character and diversity. The cultural makeup of this recruit class represents:

8 Female – including 5 South Asian

6 Male – including 3 South Asian, Black, Indigenous

The age range of recruits is 22-36 years, with the average age of 27. Languages spoken by this group include Punjabi, Hindi, Urdu, French, Spanish and Gujarati. These recruits have strong ties to Surrey as most live, work and volunteer in the community. These employees are involved in a wide range of volunteer activities including youth sports, supporting crisis centers and vulnerable populations, community services and outreach agencies. These experiences provide invaluable connections to the community.

This is also a highly educated and accomplished group. Academic backgrounds include, but are not limited to Criminal Justice, Criminology, Paramedicine, Psychology, Sociology, Sport Sciences and Commerce. Professional, national and internationally recognized athletes are also represented.

CONCLUSION

SPS is very proud of our newest recruits and impressed with their qualifications. We will work hard to provide them with the support and training required to ensure their success in their new careers.

BOARD REPORT # 2022-R024

TO: Surrey Police Board

FROM: Chief Constable

FILE: 60550-20-03

SUBJECT: Hiring and Diversity Update

RECOMMENDATION

The Chief Constable recommends that the Surrey Police Board (the "Board") receive this report for information.

BACKGROUND

SPS continues to attract and hire high quality applicants with diverse backgrounds, skills, and qualifications with a focus on recruiting police officers who are representative of the communities we serve. As of September 15, 2022, SPS has hired 327 employees, comprised of 274 sworn and 53 civilian staff. Work continues to recruit and hire sworn officers to fulfill the Joint SPS-HR Strategy and Plan, and to build out the organizational structure of SPS with skilled professional civilian employees.

DISCUSSION

Experienced officers have come from 26 different police agencies across the country, providing SPS with a broad spectrum of perspectives and experience. To date, 101 officers have been hired with RCMP backgrounds, and 145 have come from municipal police departments. 28 new recruits have also been hired.

Experienced Officer Hiring and Deployment

34 SPS members completed their RCMP orientation and were deployed into the Municipal Police Unit to work alongside the RCMP on July 29. This group brought our total number of officers deployed to 120.

The newest class of 25 experienced officers were sworn in and began their SPS onboarding training on August 15. Some of these officers will make up the next deployment of 35 experienced officers in September. Progress and momentum of hiring and deployment has been excellent and is in line with the joint SPS-RCMP HR Strategy and Plan.

Cadet Hiring and Recruiting

Our second recruit class includes 8 female and 6 male officers, with an average age of 27. This is again a very diverse group including cultural, ethnic, and gender representations. This class of recruits brings an impressive list of educational, volunteer, personal and athletic experiences.

The 14 newly hired recruits began their onboarding with SPS on August 29th and joined JIBC Class 169 on Sept 12th. The recruit officers took part in a two-week onboarding course with SPS before they began their training at the JIBC Police Academy. Their training will include a total of 23 weeks at the JIBC, and 21 weeks of field training with SPS. In July 2023, the recruits will graduate as Certified Municipal Constables and join our establishment of SPS experienced officers patrolling the community. Meanwhile, our first group of recruits have recently joined their field trainers for their Block 2 training on the road in Surrey and work is well underway to hire our third recruit class. As of this date, we have received 174 applications for the current recruit posting.

Recruiting for Diversity

SPS is experiencing a pattern similar to the global policing community who average around 20-22% of overall applicants identifying as female. Recent local discussions have highlighted the recruitment and hiring of South Asian officers, and particularly females in this demographic. This issue is relevant in the context of appropriate representation of the South Asian community, and the recruitment of female candidates in general. South Asian people make up approximately 33% of the population of Surrey, and the SPS total complement is currently 20% South Asian. South Asian females make up only 2% of SPS total officer count, significantly lower than the community representation. However, a current posting has drawn 65 applicants so far, of which 16 are female (25% of applicants), and of those 9 are South Asian (56% of female applicants). This is promising and indicates a general increase in female applicants.

Efforts are currently underway to support the recruitment of all females. Recruiting officers regularly attend recruiting events, including the International Women in Policing Conference in Ontario, and West Coast Women's Show in Abbotsford. A mentorship program is in place, geared towards exclusively helping females and people with diversity to succeed in the recruiting process, such as helping to prepare applicants to pass the Police Officer Physical Ability Test (POPAT). There is a large contingent of female officers of all ranks in the Recruiting Unit, which is encouraging for others to see and experience when looking for a career in policing and is something we aim to leverage with females during our outreach.

The SPS Recruiting Unit strives to ensure that the composition of SPS reflects the diversity that exists in the city of Surrey. A diverse workforce will help SPS to engage with citizens and ensure that SPS hears and understands their concerns, perspectives and needs. SPS also believes it is important for the public and potential applicants to know about the organization and people that have chosen to work at SPS.

Diversity Statistics

The current composition of SPS sworn officers includes:

- 19% female
- 50% culturally diverse backgrounds, including:
 - 6% Indigenous
 - 22% South Asian
- 35 languages spoken

TO: Surrey Police Board

FROM: Finance Committee

FILE: 60540-20-04

SUBJECT: Financial Update – Year-To-Date Expenditures (August 31, 2022)

RECOMMENDATION

The Finance Committee recommends that the Surrey Police Board receive this report for information.

PURPOSE

This report presents a summary of 2022 year-to-date expenditures incurred up to the period ended August 31, 2022.

BACKGROUND

The Five-Year Financial Plan 2022 – 2026 adopted by City Council in December 2021 provided the 2022 budget allocations for policing services, which included the annual budget for SPS and the one-time policing transition project budget.

The City’s 2022 – 2026 operating budgets for policing is presented in the following table (in thousands):

SUMMARY	2022 BUDGET	2023 BUDGET	2024 BUDGET	2025 BUDGET	2026 BUDGET
Policing Services Operating Budget	$ 194,807	$ 202,465	$ 211,015	$ 216,160	$ 221,459

For 2022, $72.53M was allocated to SPS; $96.66M for the RCMP and $25.62M for City Police Support Services. SPS’ budget is summarized as follows:

	2022 Budget
Remunerations, Salaries and Benefits	$48,862,320
Other Expenditures	25,587,666
Federal Subsidy	(4,200,000)
2022 Capital	2,275,000
	$72,524,986
2021 Capital Carry Forward/Reserve	$ 2,275,000
Total Available	$74,799,986

In addition to the budget for regular SPS operations above, $63.68M has been allocated by the City for the policing transition to SPS, presented in the following table (in thousands):

SUMMARY	2020 BUDGET	2021 BUDGET	2022 BUDGET	2023 BUDGET	2024 BUDGET	TOTAL
One-time Policing Transition Project	$ 25,200	$ 23,084	$ 5,400	$ 5,000	$ 5,000	$ 63,684

The available funds for one-time policing transition expenditures during 2021 was $43.72M (including carried forward amounts from 2020), of which $28.12M was unspent and carried forward into 2022. The 2022 budget allocation for the transition project is $5.40M; a total of $33.52M is available for 2022, presented in the Discussion section below.

SPS and the City of Surrey are working collaboratively with both the Province of BC and the Government of Canada on the policing transition. The specific timing of SPS becoming the police of jurisdiction is dependent on decisions made by all three levels of government, which may affect the timing of expenditures.

DISCUSSION

SPS Operations

As of August 31, 2022, year-to-date net expenditures were $9.50M favourable compared to budget; SPS incurred net expenditures of $38.17M compared to $47.67M budgeted, presented in the following table:

Dear Ms. Locke,

On June 1, 2022, the Board received your Service or Policy Complaint No. 2022-21914. Your complaint is related to Chair Doug McCallum remaining as chair considering a criminal charge against him.

Under s. 171(1) of the Police Act the Board has the following options related to your complaint:

- (a) request a chief constable of that municipal police department to investigate and report on the complaint;
- (b) initiate a study concerning the complaint;
- (c) initiate an investigation into the complaint;
- (d) dismiss the complaint with reasons;
- (e) take any other course of action the board considers necessary to respond adequately to the complaint.

The Board has dismissed your complaint per s. 171(1)(d) of the Police Act for the following reasons:

- The Board is of the view that s. 168 of the Police Act does not contemplate Service and Policy complaints against a Board member or the Board.
- There is no provision in the Police Act that permits the Board Chair to step down. The Mayor is, by operation of s. 25(1) of the Police Act, the Chair of the Board. There is no provision in the Act that authorizes any other person to be the Chair. The Board does not have the ability to amend the statute.
- The issues raised by your complaint have been resolved as best as possible, because Mr. McCallum will be absent or unable to act at Police board meetings until after the civic election, and the Board will conduct its business with an elected chair in the absence of the Mayor, pursuant to s. 25(2) of the Police Act.

Should you disagree with the Board's decision, you can contact the Office of the Police Complaint Commissioner to request a review under s.172 of the Police Act.

Sincerely,

Jessie Sunner
Vice Chair, Surrey Police Board

Where did the incident Happen

Surrey, BC

Name of the Police Department Involved:

Unknown

Please describe the incident:

This is a Service or Policy Complaint. In response to your comment "The OPCC can make recommendations to police boards for improvements to the manner in which they deliver their police services to the public of British Columbia, such as recommendations for police creation or policy amendment."

On December 10, 2022, Douglas McCallum, Mayor and Chair of the Surrey Police Service was charged under the Criminal Code of Canada with Public Mischief for lying to the police. The incident occurred on when McCallum claimed a senior woman drove her vehicle over his foot. Upon release of the I.T.O. those claims by McCallum have been found to be contradicted by the evidence provided in the video surveillance. Subsequently charges were laid by the Special Prosecutor based on the I.T.O.

According to media and others the SPS Board asked McCallum to step down as SPS Board Chair based on the charges. McCallum refused. This has tainted the SPS and has brought the process, policing and the entire city into disrepute and is unacceptable behaviour for a Police Board Chair.

- I would consider participating in a Complaint Resolution process or Mediation for this matter if my complaint is determined to be admissible and appropriate for this process.

Dear Sirs and Madame:

I am writing to solicit the names of officers within your police agency who meet the prescribed criteria and qualifications for a Police Officer Commission. The issuance of commissions is a provincial honour to formally recognize high-calibre, senior officers for their rank, professionalism, and dedication to policing in British Columbia.

Bill 14-Justice Statutes Amendment Act received Royal Assent on April 9, 2014 and included the addition of a new Part 3 to the Provincial Symbols and Honours Act (enclosed). Part 3 sets out a process whereby the Lieutenant Governor in Council (LGIC) can issue, upon recommendation of the Minister responsible for the administration of the Police Act, commissions under the Great Seal to municipal police officers and officers of designated policing units. The LGIC may authorize the issue of a commission to an officer whose rank is inspector or higher, who meet the prescribed criteria, if any, and who has the prescribed qualifications.

The Police Officer Commissions Regulation came into force on May 22, 2015 and sets out the criteria and qualifications to be met before a commission is issued. These criteria and qualifications are outlined in greater detail in the enclosed Regulation. In summary, they are:

- An exemplary service record
- 10 or more years of service in British Columbia
- A baccalaureate or master's degree or equivalent, OR the rank of Inspector or higher for at least four years
- A qualifying supervisor or police board's written recommendation for a commission

At this time, I am requesting that you provide recommendations for officers within your police agency that meet the above criteria and qualifications. Attached is the recommendation form to be used for this purpose. Recommendations for officers ranked Inspector or higher must be submitted by the Chief Constable or Chief Officer. Recommendations for Chief Constables or Chief Officers must be submitted by the Chair of the Police Board.

Recommendations will be solicited by my office once a year. For 2022, I request that recommendations be submitted to my office by August 31, 2022. I expect that individual Commissions will be ready for presentation in December.

Please note that an officer must be serving at the time that the Lieutenant Governor orders the commission be issued. As we do not anticipate that commissions will be issued until December, any officer that is planning on retiring or resigning from the police agency before that time will not be eligible to receive a commission.

If you have any questions regarding the criteria and qualifications, please feel free to contact Corinne Alexander at 778-698-9602 or Corinne.Alexander@gov.bc.ca

Dear: Sirs/Madams:

Re: Training Requirements in BC Provincial Policing Standards coming into effect

I am writing to bring to your attention various requirements, including training requirements, in recently approved BC Provincial Policing Standards (hereafter the Standards) that are coming into effect in the year ahead. Specifically, I would like to highlight the following Standards:

Standard 3.2.6\(6\) – Training to enhance service delivery to vulnerable communities (Effective date: December 31, 2022)

- All front-line police officers and front-line supervisors have completed Evidence-based, Risk-focused Intimate Partner Violence Investigations (BC-IPV).
- Please note that prior to the effective date, your officers must take this refreshed training course which now combines and replaces the requirement to take both the Domestic Violence I: Evidence-based, Risk Focused Domestic Violence Investigations and Domestic Violence II: Assessing Risk and Safety Planning in Domestic Violence (DVI and DVII) which are no longer available.

.../2

Standard 3.2.7 – Major Case Management \(MCM\) Training for Command Triangle Roles.

(Effective date: January 12, 2023)

- Consistent with the requirements in Standard 5.2.2, officers or IIO investigators must have successfully completed a provincially-approved training course for the Command Triangle role for which they are assigned. A list of the provincially-approved training can be located in the Standard. Those who completed MCM training for a Command Triangle Role prior to the effective date of the Standard may still act in a Command Triangle Role in which they were previously trained.

Additionally, the Standards associated with Community Partnerships and Equitable Policing (i.e. Standards 6.1.1, 6.1.2, and 6.1.3) will come into effect July 30, 2023. These Standards require police agencies and police boards to have policies and procedures on specific matters and to take specific actions to ensure that policing services throughout BC are delivered equitably, and in a manner that is responsive to the needs and realities of racialized or otherwise marginalized persons and communities.

While not in effect until 2024, I also wanted to highlight that the following Standards also have training components so that you may plan accordingly:

Standard 3.2.5 \(1\) – Training to promote equitable and unbiased policing (Effective July 30, 2024)

- All front-line police officers and front-line supervisors have completed BC Fair and Impartial Policing Training or a provincially-approved equivalent.

(Effective July 30, 2024)

- All police officers or IIO investigators: (a) have completed a training course, developed and delivered in collaboration with representatives from, as applicable, the local First Nation(s) and/or Indigenous organizations, which includes at minimum, the history and legacies of police relations with Indigenous peoples in the community; or (b) have completed a provincially-approved training on the history and current status of Indigenous peoples, including the history and legacies of police relations with Indigenous peoples in British Columbia.

Finally, I wanted to address the temporary suspension of several Standards pertaining to use of force requalification. The temporary suspension was to support BC police agencies in their operational and business continuity and has been in effect from March 21, 2020. This suspension will lift effective May 1, 2023.

All Standards are posted on the government website for you to review in full.

A MESSAGE FROM MARVIN ROTRAND
NATIONAL DIRECTOR, LEAGUE FOR HUMAN RIGHTS, B'NAI BRITH CANADA
POLICE UNDIROM RULES THAT ACCOMMODATE MINORITIES

Dear Friend,

Over the past year B'nai Brith has worked with police departments across Canada to adjust police uniform rules that were adopted decades ago when Canada was a more homogeneous country, and which today act as a barrier excluding otherwise qualified candidates from being hired as police officers.

Often the only impediments to a person from a religious minority pursuing a career in policing are regulations governing the wearing of religious headgear.

We believe that no one who is qualified and has value to add should be excluded due to inflexible regulations that no longer reflect the diverse reality of today's Canada. No one should be excluded when a minor reasonable accommodation can serve the public interest as well as meet the needs of a particular police department and of the candidate for a position as a police officer.

We have had great success coast to coast. We convinced some police forces which mentioned some religious headgear in their regulations to include others that were not listed. We also convinced other police services which indicated an openness to hiring persons from religious minorities to specifically mention headgear such as dashers, turbans, hijabs, kipahs and others in their rules.

B'nai Brith received written assurances from major departments including the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP), the Ontario Provincial Police (OPP), the Toronto Police Service, the Vancouver Police Service, Calgary Police Service and Edmonton Police that they have or soon will have clearly written rules that welcome qualified candidates who wear religious symbols.

In launching our efforts, B'nai Brith's goals were:

- to convince police departments that accommodating diversity allows access to a larger pool of qualified candidates, better reflects the demographics of modern-day Canada and provides more effective community policing;

- to convince Justice Ministers to legislate something akin to Connecticut State Bill 133 (link below and which goes into effect October 1) which requires all 17 police agencies in that state to have policies in place to accommodate religious symbols on police uniforms. We felt it is easier to have a law with the same rule province wide rather than convince departments one at a time.

Here's how we assess what happened:

- we had excellent cooperation. Most departments stated that they would modify the language in their policies to specifically allow religious symbols. The RCMP alerted us that it already accepts turbans and hijabs (official models available in its commissary) and henceforth will allow kippahs. Members may wear their own until an approved model is adopted. The OPP committed to working with us for clarity in its policies. Toronto has set up a Chief's Jewish Community Consultative Committee to adopt an approved kippah;
- every police department told us that officers wearing religious symbols are as effective and professional as officers who don't, and that the public accepts them in the same way as other officers;
- Nova Scotia and British Columbia wrote us that they are moving toward a Connecticut solution. We have had preliminary discussions with another province as well.

Quebec:

The province of Quebec adopted a law that precludes the hiring of persons wearing religious symbols for certain jobs. That includes for uniformed officers. Quebec is the only jurisdiction in North America to have such a law to exclude minorities. We see the law as discriminatory and offering no provable public benefit.

- B'nai Brith opposes Bill 21 and awaits the courts to clarify the reach of the law. The law seems clear in its prohibition of religious symbols for uniformed officers. We however feel it should not apply to civilian employees and have asked the Sûreté du Québec for some clarifications.

Quebec has offered no proof that a police force that bans religious symbols is more effective than one that does not.

- the trend in policing across the United States and Canada is increasingly to allow officers to wear religious symbols making Quebec a real anomaly;

- as jurisdictions are more than ever concluding that a more diverse police department is an asset; we say there is no proof that an officer wearing a religious symbol is less professional than one who does not. We invite Quebec to release any documentations showing that Bill 21 has created a public benefit when it comes to public security.

B'nai Brith has now written to the Justice Ministers of all the provinces except Quebec. We have advised them of Connecticut State Bill 133 and is the exact opposite of Quebec's Bill 21 in that it makes it mandatory for every police department in the state to have policies that accommodate minority candidates who wear religious symbols:

We have urged Canadian jurisdictions to do the same. Following Connecticut's example will permit Canadian police departments to benefit from a larger, more diverse, pool of talented candidates.

In all cases, the departments we surveyed say the minor uniform changes are supported by the public and that officers wearing religious symbols are as professional and effective as officers who don't. A province-wide law means that local departments don't have to be convinced one at a time to have more accommodating uniform regulations.

Our research shows having a diverse police force which reflects what the population of today's Canadian cities actually look like, reassures the public. It facilitates community policing and enables police departments to focus on crime prevention rather than repression. Clearly, that benefit isn't available in Quebec where the law prevents departments from making the same accommodations to attract candidates from religious minorities as are being put in place just about everywhere else

We invite the public to support our on-going efforts particularly at the provincial level by having legislatures adopt laws similar to the one in Connecticut. We will report back on this dossier in several months as we expect further positive developments.

Yours truly,

Marvin Rotrand

Please ensure all Police Board Chairs, Mayors, receive the information below from CABRO.

Thank you,

Katie

Dear Mayors,

We are excited to announce that the Governing in the Public Interest conference is returning in-person at the Vancouver Convention Centre this fall!

It has been three years since we've been able to host this foundational training and networking event for our provincially appointed public sector board members, and we are so thrilled to be able to build upon the previous conference's focus on citizen-centered governance. This year's agenda will include important themes such as Equity and Inclusion, Reconciliation and Decolonization, and Alignment with Government in addition to best practices and conflict management.

The conference will be available to you at no cost, but there is a limited number of seats available. We are allocating two spots for each police board. Please reply back to governinginthepublicinterest@gov.bc.ca with your city, names and e-mail address of two members who are committed to attend by Friday, September 23rd. We do encourage that you nominate two new publically-appointed members to maximize the benefit of the trainings. Please note that you will be responsible for any travel-related costs.

Please save the date – Thursday, November 10th, 2022 from 8:00 am – 6:00 pm. Stay tuned for updates in the coming weeks. Full agenda details and registration form will be sent to the selected members in early October. We look forward to seeing you!

Registration will open in early October 2022.

We also would like to encourage all board members to enroll in the free Governing in the Public Interest \(GIPI\) online certificate training program. This course is designed to provide appointees with the foundational knowledge to succeed in their roles and will be a pre-requisite required for those who plan to attend the conference. If you would like to register, please send a request to Lianna Olson at Lianna.Olson@gov.bc.ca.

If you have any questions, please feel free to reply to this e-mail. Please also let us know if this invitation should be extended to another recipient.

Occupational Stress Injury Dog Joins Surrey Police Service

Surrey Police Service (SPS) has welcomed an accredited canine whose primary job will be supporting policing employees in the workplace. Ragnar comes to us as a fully trained Occupational Stress Intervention Dog from the Operation Stress Service Dog division of BC Guide Dogs, VICD Service Dogs. Occupational Stress Intervention Dogs (OSID) are specially trained to help individuals deal with trauma, emotional distress, anxiety, and work stressors.

Ragnar, a two-year old yellow Labrador, became SPS's newest 'recruit' on May 10, 2022, and like all new Surrey Police Service staff, he and his SPS handler, Sergeant Kaleigh Paddon embarked on a comprehensive training program (this one with VICD Service Dogs Instructors) upon arrival. Today he has successfully completed all his training and is now qualified to be deployed as our SPS OSID dog. Sergeant Kaleigh Paddon from the SPS Wellness Unit will be Ragnar's primary caretaker, both on duty, and off duty. Ragnar and his handler will attend critical incident callouts and post incident debriefings that have impacted sworn and civilian employees. He will also attend meetings, training and events geared toward promoting SPS mental health services and resources for employees.

Police officers are required to respond to critical and potentially traumatic incidents on a daily basis, and civilian police support workers are also regularly impacted by these same incidents. Repeated exposure to traumatic incidents can lead to long-lasting negative impacts on the employee and, subsequently, the organization and community. Our SPS Wellness Unit will use Ragnar's specialized training to mitigate the damaging effects of these exposures and experiences.

This OSI dog is being generously provided to SPS by VICD Service Dogs a division of BC Guide Dogs, with support from Wounded Warriors Canada. VICD is a division of BC and Alberta Guide Dog and specializes in providing facility dogs that are trained specifically for environments with persons suffering from OSI's and trauma.

This innovative and important program for SPS could not have been facilitated without the generous support and donation from Wounded Warriors Canada. The investment by Wounded Warriors Canada goes beyond financial sponsorship, it involves partnering with SPS to support collaborative efforts to advance the health and wellness of SPS staff and families.

"We are grateful to Wounded Warriors Canada and B.C Guide Dogs for their invaluable assistance in allowing SPS to launch this innovative and tremendously important program," says SPS Chief Constable Norm Lipinski. "A cornerstone of Surrey Police Service is our commitment to employee wellness and we are proud to be able to offer this dedicated mental health support to all of our employees."

- Mary Collins, member of the Saanich Police Board and former CAPG Board member.
- Sandy Smallwood, former Vice Chair of Ottawa Police Services Board and former CAPG Vice-President.

Election of Directors / Nomination Procedure

The purpose of a nominations committee is to get a slate of directors ready for the members to vote on at the annual meeting. It must follow the provisions of the Canada Not for Profit Corporations Act (CNCA) as well as the by-laws in this regard. The principle underlying the CNCA, which is one of the reasons the Act is clear that the members elect the directors, is a principle of member democracy. This means that the corporate law expects that the members have the right to choose who will run the organization.

Under the CNCA subsection 128 (3) states, “Members shall, by ordinary resolution at each annual meeting at which an election of directors is required, elect directors to hold office for a term expiring within the prescribed period.”

Nominations Procedure:

- a. Issue & circulate official Call for Nominations at least 90 days before AGM
- b. Strike Nominations Committee
- c. Review Nominations received to ensure they are compliant with by-laws and are completed correctly with supporting signatures
- d. Conduct due diligence around candidates to ensure they are eligible and qualified as candidates

- e. Meet to review and recommend a slate for election by members/or a slate that will require nominees to be elected by ballot
- f. Notify candidates of the results of their nomination
- g. Publish official slate of nominees to members in advance of AGM
- h. Present Nominations Committee report with the slate to members for election at the AGM
- i. Consult legal counsel if there are any questions or doubts about process.

To begin the process:

- Each nominee is asked to fill out a Mirror Test.
- Each nominee is required to provide a letter of support from their board chair or another board member, independent from the nominee, outlining why their candidate is best suited to be elected to represent Ontario including their knowledge and experience of police governance.
- The letter should be a maximum of 500 words and to allow for a fair election, no additional items will be accepted with the letter.

- Only ONE representative per member will be designated to carry the vote on all business matters at the AGM including the election of the slate.
- The voting will be anonymous.
- Voting will be managed by Rebecca Boss who is managing the technical aspects of the conference for CAPG.
- Voting will take place using a virtual polling feature from the members present on the virtual call eligible to vote
- Results of the vote counts will be announced and the candidates with the most votes will be added to the final slate of directors for election.

Voting Process at the Annual General Meeting for Nominations from the Floor.

When there are no nominees for vacant seats it will require nominations from the floor.

- Notice was sent to CAPG members on August 11, 2022 that three seats (Manitoba, New Brunswick & First Nations) remain vacant for the 2022-2023 term and therefore nominations will be taken from the floor
- A form was circulated with this notice for nominees to complete and submit to the Nominations Committee by Friday, August 26, 2022
- Nominees will need a proposer and seconder
- If there is more than one nomination from the floor then the nominees will be allowed 2 minutes to speak to the delegates prior to voting
- Voting will take place using a virtual polling feature from the members present on the virtual call eligible to vote
- Results of the vote counts will be announced
- A final complete slate of nominees will be then put forward for election by the members present and eligible to vote.

The overarching principle guiding the Nominations Committee was to ensure procedures for the election of directors is compliant with both the CAPG by-laws and Canada Not for Profit Corporations Act (CNCA) but also that it is fair, open and transparent to our members.
